

Potential TOEFL student,

Yes, you can try my course for one week for FREE!

I am glad that you are thinking about becoming one of my Online TOEFL Course students, and I will do everything I can to help you reach your target TOEFL score. That means you can send me 60 seconds of speaking or pronunciation practice by e-mail every day, so I can identify delivery, language-use, and topic development issues. In addition, you can also complete ONE independent or ONE integrated writing practice test daily, and I will read, evaluate, and score those as well--at no extra cost to you. As you try my course for the first week, make sure that you send me at least one speaking and one writing practice test, so you can see how my course works and the feedback that I provide.

To help you verify the authenticity of who I am, check out the following web pages at which I also talk about my Online TOEFL Course.

You Tube: My You Tube Channel has millions of views and 1000's of subscribers; most of the 5,000+ videos focus on helping international students improve their academic English so that they can improve their TOEFL scores.
